to-day exhibited during most of the session a marked increase in the amount of busi-ness done. While speculation had a hesita-ting tone which clearly reflected the attiting tone which clearly reliected the act-tude of operators at present, pending the determination of the attitude of the Gould party in the market, the general view is still decidedly bullish. The new strength displayed by the Vanderbilts is a strong supporting element in the market.

Lake Shore sold at the highest price it has reached in years, touching 119, and while it reacted sharply for a time it was well held late in the day. Villards were stronger but made no marked advances. The market closed firm but at close to the lowest figures of the day. # MORNING COLD BATHS.

Unpleasant Symptoms Which They Sometimes Cause in Weak People. In the past few years several patients have come to me complaining that they from time to time, especially in winter, in the early part of the day, have expectorated mucus tinged with blood, writes a physician in the London Lancet. In each case there was no family history of phthisis, the temperature was normal, there were no bacilli discoverable in the sputa, there was no loss of strength or weight and the chest sounds were healthy. The men, however, were not of a vigorous type, and they were all accustomed to have a cold bath sum-mer and winter. It seemed likely, especially in winter, that the sudden applica tion of intensely cold water to the whole surface of the skin too suddenly raised the internal blood pressure, and hence the oozcapillary vessels lying beneath the lining membrane of the throat or larynx, or postrue explanation may be, the fact stands out that the unpleasant symptoms disappeared as soon as the temperature of the lov cold water was reasonably increased. The practice of taking cold baths is so uni versal nowadays that it is perhaps as well to know that, although the strong man may indulge in it with unmixed benefit, it may cause in the weak man asymptom which fills him with anxiety.

A Hot Weather Mistake.

A mistake many men make is not to drink until they are thirsty, and not to drink anything at all cool until they are hot. A man may get up in the morning and feel fairly comfortable, he will eat his breakfast and drink but little. When be gets to his work it will be warmer and he will be warmer; be will then drink beer, soda water, lemonada or ice water. In a little while he will be thirstler and he will drink some more of the same. From this time on, as the thermometer rises, he will become hotter and thir-tier. The Journal of Health explains this state of things as Thirst is a local feeling, but it means that there is not enough water in the system. Pouring water down the throat pets water into the stomach, but not into the system for some time afterward, partic ularly if the water is cold. Coffee and teaquench thirst more rapidly when they are hot than when they are cold, because they are assimilated more quickly.

After the victim of the heat is loaded up with cold water he begins to prespire more freely. This means that he has put into himself more water than his system de-mands, that the heat and his overloaded system combined are working it off. As the perspiration trickles down his face, he goes and takes more drinks, and so keeps the uncomfortable round until night, when he tosses around damp and uncomfortable. In the same way that a short run ex bausts a man's breath, and makes him sweat more than a long, leisurely walk, so a number of leed drinks poured in rapidly tire a man more, and make him sweat more, than a moderate amount of fluid taken at long intervals of time. The best time to drink is in the morning. The stomach is empty and the fluids will be carried through the system and into the blood more speedily. A pint of moderately thirst during the day than ten glasses of

The Side to Sleep On. There's a brilliant young physician in Detroit who should have been a great American humorist. During the recent hot weather a patient who hadn't been sleeping well applied to him for advice.
"What side should I sleep on, doctor?"

he inquired. "In winter or summer?" asked the doctor, rubbing his chin thoughtfully.

"What's that got to do with it?" exclaimed the patient half anguly. "A great deal," responded the doctor mysteriously.

"I don't see it." "Of course you don't," said the doctor imperturbably: "if you did you wouldn't be here asking me about it." "Go ahead then," and the patient settled back resignedly. "Weil," continued the doctor, "in winter, when it is cold, you should sleep on the inside; but in such weather as this you should sleep on the outside in a hammock with a draft all around it and a piece of ice for a pillow. Two dollars, please."-De-

He is the property of Robert Mans, of Louisville, and was born nearly half a century ago. He was ridden by Mr. Maas' grandfather during the Mexican war, and has the scar of a gunshot wound, received at Buena Vista, on his right flank. Special to the Gazette. LANCASTER, DALLAS COUNTY, TEX., Sept. 10.—Messrs, Tracy and Poindexter discussed the sub-treasury and other kindred subjects to an audience of five or six hundred voters at Henry's opera house to-night. Mr. Tracy led in a speech of one and one-half hours. Mr. Poindexter replied in a two hours' speech after which Mr. Tracy had a rejoinder of half an hour. Tracy presented nothing new to those who have read his printed speech. Mr. Poin-dexter completely refuted his positions, and captured the crowd. The audience was pretty equally divided between Alliance

Nothing Alleged About It.

He was a candidate for parliament and a limb of the law. While canvassing he was treated to the following:

Candidate-No, no; alleged stealing of the gun. Wife-Alleged be bothered! We've got the gun in the house now.-Tit-Bits.

A Few Fashlon Notes.

Sealskin coats will be worn next winter in fashionable sea lion society. Eight ounce gloves are still in vogue among artists. Undressed kids are often seen in the poorer quarters.

The summer girl will be much worn in August and September. The summer young man will wear mittens in the fall. It is not deemed good taste for a young men to shoot his brunette sweetheart with a blue barreled pistol. Blue is for blonds.

To Prevent a Terrible Fate.

An American inventor hopes to make a fortune out of the dread of being buried alive that affects many people. He has designed an apparatus to guard against the terrible possibility. Extending from the coffin to the surface of the grave is a large tube containing a sliding door, ladder and rope, with bell attached. The end of the tope is placed in the hand of the corpse, who, should be resuscitate, can either ring the bell to summon help or erawl out of the grave by the ladder.

Analyzing a Word.

A teacher gave out words for analysis. "Banknote" was one of them, and the teacher's astonishment may be imagined when one young lady brought the following unique analysis: "Bank-note is a com-pound, primitive word, composed of 'bank' and 'note.' 'Bank' is a simple word, mean ing the side of a stream; 'note,' to set down. 'Bank-note,' to set down by the side of a stream."—Vineland Independent.

Wheat Opened Dull, Advanced, Fluctuated Wildly and Finally Settled a Near 2 Cents Above Wednesday's Close. Corn Followed Wheat.

Henry Clews & Co., New York, say: Wheat—The market during the past week has been fairly active, and although at mes excited it seemed to be gradually settling down to an ordinary pace. Quotations are much less erratic than in previous weeks, but the market is still very sensitive and responds quickly to any buil or bear news. The position of the trade in the market seems to be pretty well evened up, with perhaps a small short interest. Although the general sentiment is bearish, the violent fluctuations which we have retesson and they are disinclined to get either heavily long or short, and for the time be-ing are feeling their way cautiously. Forrecently, but not to any large extent, which shows that they either have enough at present or expect to get wheat cheaper by holding off. The demand for expert, which fell off during the past ten days, has begun to improve a little, and the clearances are also

Corn-The market has been active and rregular, but the general tone has been callish on the reports of cold weather in the Northwest. The market appears to be manipulated by the New York clique, who have caught the Chicago operators short: and that they lose no opportunity to put the screws on is evidenced by the sharp rallies after every break. Toward the close of the week the temperature in the corn belt be-came higher, and fears of a killing frost im-mediately were calmed. Rumors and pre-dictions of this kind may be expected now dictions of this kind may be expected now until the corn is out of danger.

Provisions have been very firm, and toward the close of the week became strong on the official announcement of the removal of the German embargo. Large lines of hog products were sold in the speculative market by packers without influencing the market much, notwithstanding lower prices for live hogs, resulting from increased receipts. There are still no signs of any There are still no signs of any marked improvement in the outside specu-lative domand; after every quick change in while, and apparently it will require a somewhat lower level of values to attract the public and thus improve the market.

Cotton—The week again opened with a boom and considerable excitement, followed by wide fluctuations, due to the continued unfavorable even conditions, and the tined unfavorable crop conditions and the growing belief that the crop has been actually damaged from various causes, and that the yield will be much smaller than recently expected. Some of the veterans in the trade, on the other hand, claim that no serious damage has yet occurred; but when a movement of this character once gets into full swing on a crop scare, with such low prices as a basis, it is impossible to determine how far it can be carried, without regard to the importance of the crop reports. The continued dry weather in sections of Texas is causing uneasiness

Coffee—There has been quite a change in the temper of this market, and the business for the whole week done on a much lower basis. It has been very light, too, the same old process of buying in very small parcels being carried to a greater extent than ever. The result is that the jobbers complain loudly of the lack of demand and are obliged to quote the market for spots merely nominal at about 16 cents for No. 7s. CHICAGO, ILL. Sept. 10.—Whent—The market opened weak and lower ribs morning. The prime cause was the weak tone of ratios. Liverpool was reported depressed, with a seller at at decline. Trading then became heavy for about fifteen minutes, during which it surged up and down between 6055 and 9340. Then a curious change in sentiment occurred. The hears began to reach conclusions, but the great drop in the price of whent within three weeks was enough to instity a reaction, and to consider a weak market overloaded with hear news and with apparently no friends as furnishing a rare opportunity to buy for a turn. A number who reached this cancission at about the same time here and elsewhere, as snown by buying orders, reversed the tone of the market.
